Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of the legal term "said."

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

The use of the term "said" in the specification, such as on page 6, is objected to as confusing and unnecessary.

The specification is replete with poor grammar such as the terms "changes the simple and dullness" and "in still motion" on page 7; and gives drivers a better vision" on page 8.

The term "concaves" on page 8 should be changed to "concave portions" or "concave recesses" for a proper understanding of the invention.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1: The light-emitting component, the glittering, the glittering light, and the advancement all lack antecedent basis in the claim. The parentheses around the term Light Emitting Diode is confusing and the claim is indefinite as it is not clear if the LED is being claimed as part of the invention. The phrase "main characteristic" is indefinite and should be deleted. It is not clear what the "advancement" is related to. The advancement of what?

In claims 2-4, the preamble sets forth glittering light, while the preamble of claim 1 sets forth glittering lights, making it unclear how many lights are claimed.

In claim 2 a term such as "portion" or "recess" should be inserted after "concave."

In claim 3 the term "installed" should be deleted as it infers a method; and the light-emitting component being installed at the back of the cover contradicts claim 1 where the light component is installed on the adorning surface (front) of the cover, thereby rendering the claim indefinite as to where the light is located.

In claim 4 the term "may amount to twenty at the most" is indefinite as written and should be changed to "comprise up to twenty lights."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 1, 2, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wang.

The recess 12 is considered to be a concave. The light emitting members 22 are not specifically described as being LED's, but is inherent that they are LED's by the description of the lights and the structure as shown.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wang in view of Liaw.

For the light emitting members to be mounted on the back side of the cover and protrude through openings would have been obvious as taught by Liaw in order to simplify assembly or to expose only a portion of the LED's for a different look or effect.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references show other wheel covers with light members.
